NOTHING FOR THE SOUTH.

Though the President Appoints Several Important Officials.

RIG LOUISVILLE ASSIGNMENT.

Ministers in Central Kentucky Praying for Rain.

SOME OTHER LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

Washington, Oct. 4.—The President today filled a foreign mission and five consulates, but none came South.

AWAY GOES CIVIL SERVICE.

If President McKinley Endorses This Ruling.

Washington, Oct. 4.—The assistant secretary of the treasury decides that the collectors of internal revenue can remove every employee. If McKinley endorses this, it will result in every Democrat in the revenue service being turned out.

BREAK IN BEER.

Assignment of the Oldest Brewery in Louisville.

Louisville, Oct. 4.—The Phoenix Brewery, the oldest in this city, made an assignment this morning.

PRAYING FOR RAIN.

Action of the Ministers of a Central Kentucky Town.

Harrodsburg, Ky., Oct. 4.—The ministers of all the churches in this city united today in a prayer for rain. The drought is most distressing and is causing a vast amount of suffering among stock and a great loss to the farmers.

BRYAN WILL SPEAK.

The $150 Raised and He Will Be Here the 13th Inst.

Hon. W. J. Bryan will speak in Paducah on the afternoon or evening of the 13th inst.

This was decided today by a meeting of the free silver men, and no difficulty will be encountered in raising the necessary amount, $150, to pay for a special train. In fact the amount has practically been subscribed.

ARM BROKEN.

A Little Girl Breaks Her Arm Twice.

The eight-year-old daughter of Mr. W. L. Forest, who resides on Bernheim Avenue, yesterday fell from a fence and broke her left arm.

The peculiar thing is that five weeks ago the same girl fell off the same fence in the same place and broke the same arm in the same place. It is likely that hereafter she will be kept off the fence to save doctors' bills if not bones.

FULL OF FUN.

"Hogan's Alley" at Morton's Wednesday Night.

"Hogan's Alley," that will appear at Morton's opera house Wednesday night, is universally pronounced the hottest potato that ever came out of a theatrical oven, because it is full of fun as an egg is full of meat, and there is not a dry moment in it. See the power of the "Hogan's Alley" and bring your wife, your children and sweetheart and enjoy an evening of hilarity with Mickey Dugan and the "Yellow Kid."

RIGHT OF WAY.

Blocked by a Small House on the River Front.

Interesting Controversy Between Mr. Erack Owen and the Illinois Central.

Considerable interest has been manifested in the controversy between Mr. Erack Owen and the Illinois Central railroad company, which has by no means been adjusted.

Mr. Owen, about two years ago purchased some land down in what is known as "Dogtown" for the purpose of erecting a storehouse for grain.

When the council granted the I. C. a right of way over the river front, it was through Mr. Owen's property. Commissioners were appointed to appraise the land, and fixed its value at $100. The I. C. did not suit Mr. Owen, and he applied to the county court. A jury there awarded him $100, and Mr. Owen took an appeal to the circuit court.

He crowded a small house on it Saturday directly in front of the bridge being constructed, and the railroad company promptly built a fence around it and tore it down there. They now have possession and will tear down the house and build on as if it were not there.

Mr. Owen stated this morning that he would contest the case to the end. A representative of the railroad company said that the company was the legal owner of the property, and that was sufficient to justify its course.

It will probably be the latter part of the week before the workmen reach the house.

DRESS CAUGHT IN WHEEL.

Miss Mamie O'Brien Painfully Hurt.

Miss Mamie O'Brien was painfully injured this morning in Mechanicsburg, in front of Mr. Jesse Gilbert's drug store.

She was riding a bicycle, and her dress became caught in the spokes in some way. She was thrown on her left shoulder, and her clothing was badly torn. Dr. Gilbert and Mr. Goodman, the barber, extricated her from her position, and rendered her what assistance they could.

$100,000 UP IN SMOKE.

Fire on North Second Street Saturday.

Witnessed by Quite a Crowd of Interested Spectators.

There was a $100,000 blaze on North Second street Saturday night, and neither of the Sunday papers had a word about it.

Early in the evening a bundle of papers representing about $100,000 in gold, cold cash were destroyed by fire.

But don't be alarmed. They were destroyed purposely, and were nothing more than the old bonds of the Paducah Electric Company, which has consolidated with the other company. New bonds have been issued for the new corporation, and, as is customary, the old bonds were destroyed.

Quite a crowd of the stockholders were present in the engine room when the bonds were thrown into the furnace to be transformed into ashes.

PETRIFIED HAM.

A Marshall County Farmer Finds One

Twenty Feet Below the Surface, While Digging a Well.

Henry Kaiser, who resides near Hartsville, Marshall county, was digging a well a few days ago on his farm.

When a depth of about twenty feet was reached, the workmen struck a hard substance which, when hauled to the top and examined, proved to be a petrified ham.

It has proven quite a curiosity in the neighborhood, and many people have seen the peculiar petrification, and pronounced it a perfect ham.

How a ham could have gotten that far beneath the surface is a deep mystery.

YOUTHFUL THIEVES.

Stanley Walker and Sam Duddy Embark Early

IN HOUSEBREAKING BUSINESS.

Caught in Paris, Tenn., With Goods Stolen Here, But Escaped.

NOW IN THE COUNTY JAIL.

Stanley Walker and Sam Duddy, two of Paducah's most youthful criminals, were arrested this morning on a charge of housebreaking. Some of the stolen goods were found on them, and they are suspected of numerous other things.

Officers Eaker and Johnson made the arrests, and found some shoes, pocketbooks and other articles stolen from Ellis, Rudy & Phillips last Saturday night.

The boys are also suspected of being the thieves who stole about $75 worth of jewelry from the office of the Paducah Transfer Company a few days ago in broad daylight.

Mr. Tarbell Laurie, the bookkeeper, had stepped out for only a few moments, and when he returned he ascertained that during his absence a drawer in the safe, which had been left open, had been opened and a box containing a ladies' watch, and four or five rings, had been extracted and stolen.

The marshal at Paris, Tenn., arrested two negro boys a few days ago with the stolen jewelry, which, by communicating with Marshal Collins here, he learned was stolen here.

The boys gave the names of Alexander and Reubard, and made their escape, but are believed to be the same boys, Walker and Duddy, who remained at once and committed Saturday night's burglary.

Both are old offenders. Walker has been guilty of several thefts and burglaries that entitled him to stripes, but he was always released on account of his age.

Duddy has served a term in the Illinois reform school, and is the same youth struck in the head with a pop bottle down on the wharf a few months ago by Will Rogers.

This morning Marshal Collins had several suspects under arrest also, and expected the marshal from Paris to identify the prisoners on the first train.

REGISTER TOMORROW.

FROM SIX A. M. TO NINE P. M.

You must register if you wish to vote.

The marshal of Paris failed to arrive this morning, but is expected at any time.

After Ellis, Rudy & Phillips was burglarized, the thieves went to the Bayard, on Broadway, kept by Miss Abraham. Here a gold watch and several other things were stolen. The watch was this morning found by Marshal Collins, one of the boys having sold it for $1.

Marshal Collins had the officers searching for the other goods today, and found a valise that had been full of it, but a woman had forestalled them at a house on South Seventh and broken open the valise, secreting the goods.

The thieves young rascals were warranted for housebreaking and committed to jail this afternoon to await trial.

Walker claims the shoes found in possession of the boys were won in a crap game.

The boys were seen yesterday with seven all rings on their fingers that had been stolen from Ellis, Rudy & Phillips.

He was knocked down and one leg was dislocated and badly lacerated.

LOWERY LEAVES.

Principal Witness for the Prosecution Skips.

BENTON GREATLY EXCITED.

He is Supposed to Have Left to Keep From Testifying—Some Hint Foul Play.

HIS RELATIVES PUBLICLY QUESTIONED.

Considerable excitement has been created at Benton over the sudden disappearance of Stanford Lowery, the principal witness for the prosecution in the Noah Franklin murder case.

Today when court convened an effort was made to find him, or to ascertain his whereabouts, by subjecting his sister and others supposed to know where he had gone, to a rigid interrogation, threatening them with indictments for perjury if they were found to misrepresent facts, but all professed the most utter ignorance as to whereabouts.

Unless he is found, it is not evident how the case can proceed. While the consensus of opinion is that Lowery has skipped out to avoid testifying, some hint that he has met with foul play.

Today little has been done in the case, but some testimony has been heard.
